Industries Promote Liberal Education

Whether you realize it or not, part of the tab for your education this year is being picked up by a paper manufacturer in Maine, a steel company in Connecticut, a memorial corporation in Vermont, a machine tool company in Rhode Island, a cigar maker in New Hampshire and a carbon black manufacturer in Massachusetts.

And these organizations are being helped by a container maker in Chicago, a fireproofing manufacturer from Pittsburgh and 39 other corporations who realize that they have a very definite stake in preserving the New England tradition of independent liberal arts education.

All this is coming about because St. Michael's and 22 other New England liberal arts colleges got together a little more than a year ago and created a new, cooperative organization. The New England Colleges Fund, Inc. The Fund became an active agency last Fall.

In the past business has been interested in helping the colleges, but there has always been the question of how to give to one college without the implied necessity of giving to all others. The creation of The New England Colleges Fund has answered this problem.

HOW GIFTS ARE SHARED

All of the 23 sponsoring colleges of the Fund share in every gift. Thus, a corporation, by making one gift to the Fund, as actually helping 23 colleges. This solution has been received with favor by businessmen, and as a consequence, the Fund has made a start toward providing the colleges with urgently needed additional working capital.

From the colleges' point of view, one of the best features of this program is the fact that all gifts from business and industry to the Fund are unrestricted. This means that the colleges can use the money in whatever way will be of the most benefit. In short, business and industry have said, "We know you need the money, we know that you know where it will do the most good: here it is . . . put it to work."

WHY BUSINESS GIVES

The natural question at this point is: what's in it for business and industry?

The answer, of course, varies from corporation to corporation. Some look upon these colleges primarily as a source for potential executive talent. Others feel that independent liberal arts education is an integral part of unregimented American living and that its preservation is a necessity if there are to be thinking men and women in business, civic and public life.

Certainly the answers are not purely altruistic. For most businessmen an educated market is a better market. Others point out that unless private institutions are all kept strong, there will be the necessity for more public institutions (and as a result, increased taxes) as enrollments swell during the coming years. And there are many other answers.

Eventually, it comes down to this one basic proposition. The businessman, whether he is a postage meter manufacturer in Connecticut or a razor blade manufacturer in South Boston, realizes that maintaining liberal arts education as a strong vigorous component of American life is very much in the best interests of his company, his stockholders and his country.

CONTRIBUTORS LISTED

The businesses which are helping you this year by gifts made in 1953 to The New England Colleges Fund, Inc. are Abrasive Machine Tool Co., E. LAST FLING BEFORE LENT

The plans for the "Shrove Tuesday Shuffle" are nearing completion, according to Rev. John Paro, SSE, moderator, and Cleveland Williams, president of the club.

The purpose of this dance is to supplement the returns of the recently conducted Crucifix Drive here on campus.

The dance under the direction of Pete Spillane will take place in Austin Hall on Tuesday March 2nd, with dancing from 8 to 12.

The dress for this "stag or drag" dance is informal. Tickets are set at fifty-cents per person and may be obtained from either your hall representative or Pete Spillane.

Music under the direction of Tony Agostinelli will be supplied by the Nu-Tones, who sport two new members for the occasion, namely John Marino, bass; and Reid Loudon, piano. The remainder of the combo is made up of Frank and Vin Iarossi, saxes; Tony Agostinelli, accordion; and Jim Dempsey, drums. All of the Nu-Tones have played for other groups both on and off campus.

This dance is the last before the beginning of Lent, and as a result the last social event of its type before the Junior Prom in May.

CLEVELAND LAD REAL HUSTLER

Thomas Pollack of Cleveland, Ohio, is a lad who believes in looking ahead.

He has written to Registrar Thomas A. Garrett at St. Michael's College to apply for admission. Garrett sent the requested information and an application blank.

"I forgot to tell you," wrote Pollack in his reply, "that I am only in the seventh grade. Should I keep the application and fill it out or should I throw it away and get one when I am a sophomore in high school?"

Garrett wrote back: "Don't throw the application away. Give it to some good high school senior who would like to come to Vermont for a good college education. If you will write shortly after your senior year in high school begins, I'll send you another application."

Carnival A Pleasant Memory

Congratulations to Chairman Dave Matson and his Committee, and to Mr. Powers, moderator of the Outing Club for the 1954 Winter Carnival. Through their combined efforts, the affair was not only a social success, but also a financial one.

Blessed by good weather the snow sculptures played a predominant part in the week-end. St. John's Hall walked off with first prize in the contest. Ed Meyers, Tom Whitan, and Mort Cavanaugh combined to depict a figure falling into a beer mug. Judges Fr. Gopaul, Mr. Lovering and Mr. Powers awarded this statue the $15 cash prize.

Another very interesting sculpture was done by St. James Hall. A Grotto of The Blessed Mother of Grace was their entry. Sculptor for this work was frosh Joe Visconti, aided by Chairman Joe Martin and other members of the hall.

Dave Holmes "walked" off with first prize money in the cross-country ski race at Underhill. He was followed in order by Bernie Boucher and Tom Leonard.

Saturday's Jam Session was also a huge success, an added attraction to the session was the participation of the audience in a version of the "Bunny-hop." Skits were also featured during the long afternoon. The sophomores presented a "Day in the Chow-hall." Jack Stebbins, Ray Donnellan, and Dick Narkiviecs headed the cast. The Juniors presented a variation of the T.V. program "Dragnet." Stars for this production were Bob Bolster, Pete Spillane and Hank Cournoyer.

An unusually large crowd returned to the campus, following the basketball game for an informal dance Saturday night. Vin Iarossi's Trio furnished the music.

With the blessing of the skis Sunday morning, and the trip to Stowe, the wonderful week-end ended.

Now we can look forward to the Junior Prom.

Kilcoyne's Article Printed In Record

An article on Academic Freedom by one of St. Michael's College summer session faculty was considered so outstanding that it has been inserted into the Congressional Record. The piece "The Limits of Academic Freedom" appears in the February issue of Columbia, the Knights of Columbus magazine.

The author is Dr. Francis P. Kilcoyne, visiting associate professor of English at St. Michael's. During regular sessions, Dr. Kilcoyne has been professor of English at Brooklyn College where he was recently promoted to dean of administration.

The article was inserted into the Congressional Record by Congressman Thomas J. Lane of Massachusetts. Dr. Kilcoyne is a native of Lawrence, Mass.

Lenten Season Talks Slated

The Lenten season, here at St. Michaels, will commence on Ash Wednesday, March 3, with the Blessing of the Ashes at a Solemn High Mass, which will be celebrated at 7 o'clock. The Ashes will be distributed at all masses, and during the Evening Devotions.

Highlighting the Holy Season will be a series of sermons delivered by Father Sullivan, and Father DuPont. The subject matter of Father Sullivan's addresses will concern a dogmatic treatment and review of Penance and Grace. On March 5th he will speak on "The Problems of Penance - Neither the Saint nor the Devil need Penance." His topic on March 10th will concern "The Problem of Lent - A Particular Problem of Penance." He will close his series on Penance and Grace on March 10, with a digression on "The Problem of Problems - Is Gracean Answer?" Father DuPont will follow up on Father Sullivan's series with another group of talks, commencing on March 24th, and concluding on April 2nd.

As in past years, all social activities on the Hilltop will cease (with the exception of the Sunday Night movies in Austin Hall) on Shrove Tuesday night, so that the students will be better able to concentrate on their spiritual lives during the Holy Season.

Seasonal religious services will include: Solemn Stations of the Cross at 7 p.m. in the chapel on March 12th, 17th, 26th, 31st and on April 9th; Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament on March 5th, 10th, 19th, and 24th and on the 2nd and 7th of April. High Mass will be celebrated on the Feast Day of Saint Patrick March 17, and two days later on March 19, the Feast of Saint Joseph. First Friday Devotions will be held in the chapel as usual on March 5th and April 2nd.

MAKE LENT COUNT

How about making this Lent count?

The Church has not set any superhuman tasks for us. In fact, she only requires a minimum.

It's not too much to ask to refrain from three full meals a day, or to abstain from meat twice a week. But we have the opportunity to do more.

On campus, the task of faithfully observing the Holy Season is much easier because of the proximity of spiritual facilities.

Daily mass, visits or stations of the Cross would certainly place no great burden on anyone.

The Lord loveth a cheerful giver - or doer.

WELL DONE

Enough praise can't be given to our Basketball team for its upset victory over Vermont last Wednesday. Seven points behind, with minutes remaining, they never gave up. They tied it up and went on to win in overtime. Tonight Doc Jacobs and his five travel to Northfield and take on the Norwich Cadets. A victory for the Purple Knights would assure them of at least a tie for the mythical State title. We'll all be rootin' for them.

Future Sawbones Should Apply Now For MCAT Test

Candidates for admission to medical school in the fall of 1955 are advised to take the Medical College Admission Test in May, it was announced today by Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the test for the Association of American Medical Colleges. These tests, required of applicants by almost every medical college throughout the country, will be given twice during the current calendar year. Candidates taking the May test, however, will be able to furnish scores to institutions in early fall, when many medical colleges begin the selection of their next entering class.

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, May 8, 1954, or on Monday, November 1, 1954, at administrations to be held at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the country. The Association of American Medical Colleges recommends that candidates for admission to classes starting in the fall of 1955 take the May test.

The MCAT consists of tests of general scholastic ability, a test on understanding of modern society, and an achievement test in science. According to ETS, no special preparation other than a review of science subjects is necessary. All questions are of the objective type.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information, which gives details of registration and administration, as well as sample questions, are available from pre-medical advisers or directly drom Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N.J. Completed applications must reach the ETS office by April 24 and October 18, respectively, for the May 8 and November 1, administrations.

ATTENTION SENIORS:

Orders are now being taken in the Bookstore for Commencement Announcements.

Deadline is March 10th, Be sure to place your order on time.

TRANSOCEANIC WAR OF WORDS

By Dave Quinlan

As David M. Essenfeld recently discovered quite graphically: you can at times find yourself in friendly disagreement under the most peculiar and unexpected circumstances; and in his case across an ocean at that!

By virtue of this position as editor of the Lance he came in contact with various magazines sent out by the different colleges. While scrutinizing several of them he happened upon the " Isis " of Oxford College, England.

Struck by "its scholarly and interesting articles" its make up and advertising which he compared to certain high pressure advertising of the U.S., he penned a letter to its editors commending them on their fine magazine.

In it he said that the " Isis " displayed " qualities of journalism which seem to be lacking in most modern publications." He further stated that any American would notice the difference between English and American advertising assuming that that of the " Isis " was a true criterion of English advertising:

An American doing graduate work at Oxfore read Essenfeld's letter in the January 20 issue of the British magazine and took issue with him. The individual (who Essenfeld declined to identify further than " a Harvard graduate " on the grounds that it was a personal letter), in a letter to Essenfeld attacked his inference that an Oxford education (and European education in general) was superior to that of the U.S. Nor did he like the apparent implication that there were no good literary publications in the U.S. and he listed a few which he thought to be at high quality

The Oxford student requested The Lance's editor to review again American publications saying: " In any case I suggest that you take another look at " The Lance " and evaluate it fairly, and you will find that even in Vermont, literature is being produced worthy of comparison, at the same level and by the same age group with any here in England or elsewhere."

As regards advertising the Harvard grad claimed that England had some papers, just as sensational in copy and advertising as some of our American tabloids.

His final point was that American culture and civilization in his opinion can be compared quite favorable with European culture: " I have often sought to defend American culture and civilization and then some bright snob says: 'Oh, I say, I didn't know there was any culture in America.' Letters like yours do not help to strengthen my case."

At present Editor Essenfeld is employed in drafting a lengthy reply to this American graduate student. His retort, he says, will consider three major aspects:

1- A criticism of the Oxford student for defending things in American culture which in reality are not worthy of being defended but which instead contribute to the degradation of our culture.

2- An analysis of what American culture really is and how we have profited from European culture.

3- An analysis of the American student below the post graduate level, and the American school and its method of meeting the student's needs.

However this intercontinential debate turns out, we can rest assured that each combatant will profit from this trans-Atlantic exchange of views

WELL, GUYS, HERE WE GO AGAIN. . . Ah yes, another onslaught on the mentality of the Mikemen. . .But maybe if you read it fast it'll be less nauseous. . A modern Joshua has been tootin' his horn 'round St. Willie's, or anyway it appeared so after Kake Walk festivities Sat. last. Seems when some of the boys returned they found some slight dents in the walls - some large enough to walk through. (Although, who was walking at that time?) We hear it will take about $150 to get them plastered. (The walls, that is.)

Rumor is the SMC has devised a new plan to economize-. .instead of dropping football, football is to be reinstated - but now the student body is to be eliminated. Beauty movies on Sunday, but it seems that some of our lads are missing the big money. . .Those on the screen receive a couple grand a week for making fools of themselves, while some smarties in the audience do it for nothing.

Pretty potent beverage in the gingerale bottles making the rounds at the Winter Carnival Ball. . .Wonder why the portions were measured out in such small quantities???

My Grand Dad loves to fiddle up,
The old Virginia Reel,
Yet, he hates to hear a saxophone ...
'Cause he has no sax appeal ...

At last count about half the sweet innocents of Ryan IV were campused. . .Chin up, Charlie, Simone wrote and it's in the hands of providence. . .Is it true that " Whitey " Kenney is joining the SSE??? The Winter Carnival is now in progress at Trinity, with a Dutch theme. . .hummmm, wonder if this means Dutch treat??? How about the absence of guys from the Student Council meetings on Monday nights?.. The last two meetings have been very peppy. . .why not come and see what's going on??? You may be surprised. . .St. John's took first place in the snow sculpture competition with a SMC size stein and an eager imbiber. . .Wonder how the prize money was spent. St. James was second with the Grotto and Ryan third with the Rocket Ship. . .We feel the judges didn't put their Hearts in it.

Seems WSSE came in second in the race for a campus radio station. . .At present there is a set up in one of the halls whereby a student can broadcast through an ordinary radio and be tuned in within a radius of fifty yards. Is it true that in order to cope with the flood around campus a telegram was sent to Venice asking advice??? We say skip the advice and send a couple gondolas. . .Word is that a Kew Knightlights of '54 is to be produced under the direction of the Mission Crusade. . .Hear they are holding auditions soon. . .Since it's not too hard to get up an act, why not get the guys together and go wild? Here's a chance to show your stuff. . .It may well be that Christmas vacation next year will start a week earlier, if things go through as planned. However, wait for the official scoop.

A number of American reporters were having difficulty finding the president of South Korea, Synghman Rhee, to get his views on world affairs. When he was finally spotted in a corridor one of the reporters came out with, " Ah, sweet Mr. Rhee of Life, at last I've found you. "

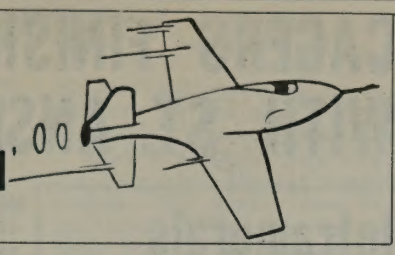
JET STREAM



By Bob Lanoue

The release of information concerning Russia's long range bombers set a few people back on their heels. The Secretary of Defense was not ready to comment on the situation especially since a short time ago he seemed to think that Russia was concentrating on fighters and defensive planes. Senator Symington places the Russians in a better position than the Air Force with their 400 bombers equipped with radar bombsight. We do not even have a single long range bomber wing in action yet.

Don't feel discouraged for better days are coming. Here's one on the Russians. After tests of the MIG-15 that we have in our possession, Yeager and others have confirmed that the skin isn't as clean as that of the Sabre; it is slower; the outside aerial is a dead give-away that their radio equipment is not up to date; it has inadequate stall warning; it lacks cockpit space and comfort which tends to tire the pilot; the heating is bad as is the ventilation; it also lacks powered control which requires the pilot to concentrate too much on flying and leaves little time for combat or engagement of the enemy. Still want to join the Russian Air Force?

This is one time we can say that the British are laying down on the job and not be contradicted. They are experimenting with a new jet, the Armstong Whitmore Meteor; a fighter with a prone cockpit. The old style cockpit is also found behind the new gimmick. The only drawback is not to get caught napping.

The proposed Air Academy is well on the way to reality. The bill has gone through the House of Representatives and no trouble is expected in the Senate. The next big question is to find a site for it. Surely, Vermont will make a bid in favor of having it on her home soil?????????

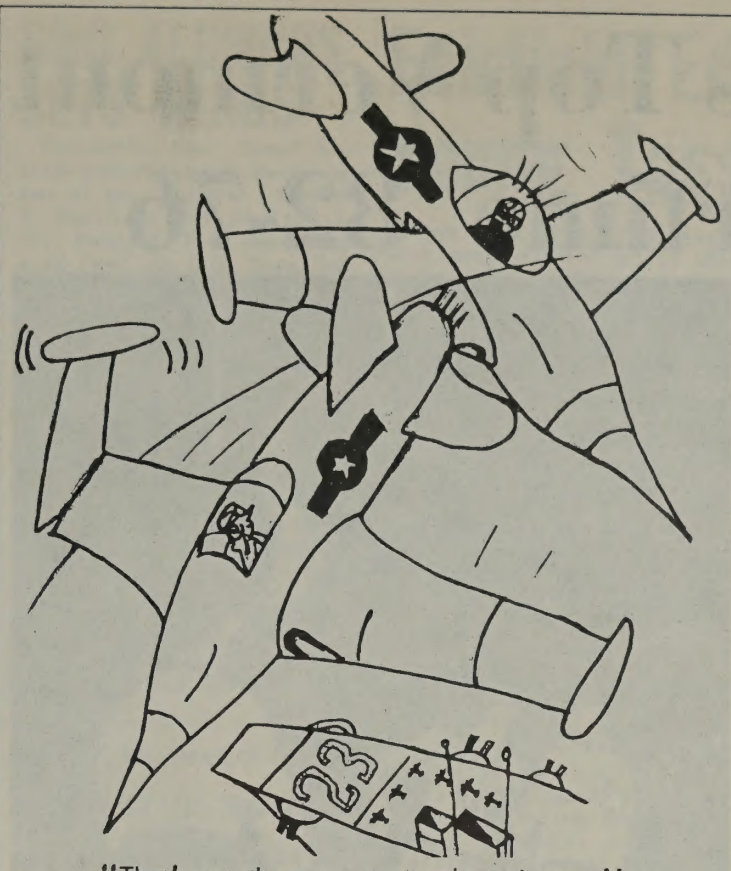
Lt. Colonel Quigley will head south for a rendezvous at headquarters in Alabama. All AFROTC unit heads are to be present for a three-day conference. Chances are this will be the last we'll see of the Colonel for a month or so. Can't blame him for wanting to get away from it all and enjoy himself where the weather doesn't present an occupational hazard.

DRILL TO START

A note of interest to all cadets: DRILL STARTS ON MARCH 23, 1954 -- regardless of the weather naturally. Only a tropical hurricane will warrant its cancellation. Don't be discouraged though the regular drill sessions may even start earlier, seeing as how the temperature has risen to 10 below.

Wings are forthcoming to four Sophs. M. Healy, D. Flynn, L. McPherson, and J. Ross completed their training last Friday in the C-45 and rumor has it that Chuck Yeager and a few other aces from Korea are in danger of being replaced by these four lads with soaring ability. Their two hour cruise must have been pleasant as well as informative, for as yet no complaints have been heard. They were among the very few who have hit a good day on which to go up.

Drill teams held a contest in Boston recently. Ten our of eighteen New England units were represented. Out of ten sections throughout the country, New England is the first to hold such a contest. This is the third year that this affair has been held and AF officials present hope to make it a nation wide affair. St. Michael's along with UVM, was among the eight not represented. We have the potential of a good drill squad here and plans are in progress to bring one into being. A little cooperation on the part of the cadets with the officers could help in effecting a squad that would be able to stand up to any other New England unit.



"That's not the way to signal a right turn."

MARINE DUTY EXTENDED

All newly enrolled Marine officer candidates will be required to serve an extended period of active duty after being commissioned, according to General Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., Commandant of the Marine Corps.

Current and future officer requirements of the Marine Corps, as they are presently indicated, make desirable longer periods of active service for all newly commissioned reserve officers, General Shepherd said this week.

The Marine Corps has completed plans to make certain that a college man who enrolls in the Platoon Leaders Class after July 1, 1954 will be required to serve three years of activecommissioned service, instead of the present two-year tour.

Officer Candidate Course candidates enrolled subsequent to February 1, 1954 are subject to this new policy change now.

Knights Top Vermont In Overtime 82-76

St. Michael's Purple Knights came from seven points behind in the closing minutes to upset a favored Vermont team in an overtime thriller 82-76. The win at Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday, threw the State Title race into a three way tie as Norwich was dumped by Middlebury the same night. Should the Knights win at Northfield on Saturday, they would be assured of at least a tie for the crown.

Paced by Tom Lemanowicz's 20 point second half and Bob Young's scoring and rebounding, St. Michael's came back from a five point deficit at the half to tie the game in the last two minutes and send it into overtime. In the five extra minutes, the Knights outscored the Catamounts 10-4 to emerge victorious.

KNIGHTS START FAST

Young got the Knights off to a running start with five straight points early in the first period. Jampolis broke the ice for the Cats with two free throws, followed by Woolf's one-hander and Malinverni's free throw, tying it up. The squads matched baskets until Malinverni and Campana put together six points for a 15-11 lead. Bolster broke through for a layup, but with Woolf spearheading the attack. Vermont poured in eight more tallies. Lemanowicz broke this skein with a two-pointer that ended the quarter with UVM on top 23-15.

Capitalizing on fast breaks, Vermont moved to an 11 point lead midway in the second period. Cieplicki's one-hander and Wegrzynski's layup put the Knights back in the ballgame. Finally, Young tossed in five more and St. Michael's left the floor at halftime trailing 38-33.

SMC TAKES LEAD

Following an exchange of baskets in the opening minute of the second half, the Knights waxed hot for eleven points to Vermont's lone foul shot. Young pivoted for still another to put the Knights out front 45-43. UVM called for a timeout and after it immediately went into a zone. The new defense slowed the pace down and the Catamounts tied it several minutes before the quarter. When Jampolis fouled out, SMC took a momentary lead again, but Samuels and Campana combined to give Vermont a three point bulge at the quarter.

The Catamounts forged ahead on a five point flurry at the outset of the final stanza. Lemankwicz scored for SMC, but Vermont moved to a seven point lead. Bolster picked up his fifth personal and was replaced by Jack Coffey. Cieplicki and Lemanowicz then combined for a couple to put the Knights only two away. Woolf's conversion increased it to three again, and less than a minute remained.

With forty seconds left, Young drove in from the corner, dumped one in and then made good a free throw to tie it up. With the Auditorium in bedlam, the Catamounts gambled for one last shot. Lovejoy let fly with a set at the two second mark, but it was wide and the game went into overtime.

Malinverni scored first on another one-hander, and Lemanowicz picked up a free toss for the Knights. After Woolf's foul conversion, Lemanowicz came back with a three pointer to put St. Michael's out front. On a beautiful assist from Young, Coffey tossed in two more, followed them with two free throws, and still another layup. Massimino ended the scoring for Vermont with a foul shot and the contest ended 82-76.

Lemanowicz's second half scoring spree, Young's 23 points and 29 rebounds and Coffey's overtime play were the shining points in a great team victory.....Four of the SMC starters hit double figures.

Box score:

St. Michael's	FG	F	T

BOB BOLSTER (7) of the Knights breaks through for a score in the early minutes of the second period. Watching for Vermont are KEITH JAMPOLIS (13) and NAT CAMPANA (24). BOLSTER'S eight points in the third period kept the Knights in the contest.

KNIGHTS vs CADETS FOR STATE DIADEM

The state series will come to a close this Saturday night, as the Purple Knights engage the Norwich Cadets at their Northfield fieldhouse. It will be the second meeting of the two clubs this season, Norwich having copped the first 65-58 here at the Auditorium.

Under Coach Duke Benz, the Cadets are currently enjoying their most successful basketball season in the college's history. At present, their record finds 17 wins against but a single setback. The University of Vermont beat them by two points in an overtime scrap at the Auditorium earlier in the month. Since then, however, they have rebounded to cop three straight, with Wesleyan, St. Lawrence and Clarkson the victims.

KNIGHTS LOST FIRST

The first tilt between St. Michael's and Norwich this season, saw the Knights operating without the services of Bob Young. The lack of his scoring and rebounding ability, which has made him the leader among New England's small colleges, was a definite handicap to the Knights' offensive punch. Nevertheless, the game witnessed "Doc" Jacobs' charges leading into the final quarter. But the Cadets came up with a 23 point spurt in that period as against the Knights' 13, and so walked off with the seven point victory. Tom Lemanowicz and Bernie Cieplicki paced the SMC offense, while Chet Szwejkowski's set shots and freshman Danny Lambert's unerring one-handers sparked the Cadet's final drive.

Both clubs will be at full strength for this contest which marks the conclusion of state title play. Elsewhere, the Catamounts meet Middlebury on the latter's home court, the same night. The SMC-Norwich encounter is the second to last scheduled game for both outfits.

Since the Knights' record in their last eight contests has not been over impressive, they will be in danger of not over the Horsemen, however, would more than compensate for it.

CAGERS FINISH MONDAY WITH ST. ANSELM'S

St. Anselm's College of Manchester, New Hampshire, will be the final foe of the season for the St. Michael's court squad in an away contest on next Monday night.

It will be the 18th meeting between the two clubs with the Hawks of St. Anselm's holding a three game edge. Last year, the Purple Knights dropped two close decisions to the Hawk quintet. The first was a 46-44 battle and then a 79-74 overtime thriller in the season finale.

TOPPED PROVIDENCE

As far as mutual opponents go, the Hawks have played both Holy Cross and Colby. The Crusaders swamped them 102-60, as did Colby 86-74. Although the Knights too lost to the Cross, yet they did hand Colby a ten point defeat on their own court. St. Anselm's, however has shown the winning touch and holds two decisions over a strong Providence club, while losing to Boston College by only four.

Coach Al Grenert of the Hawks had two starters back from last year's five which posted a 14-9 record. Jim Driscoll, 6'6" center, and captain Hugh Reilly, along with the return of a classy ball handler, Bobby Williams, bolster the Hawks hoop fortunes. Kevin Matthews and Pat McCarthy will probably complete the starting quintet.

George "Doc" Jacobs will finish out the year with the same starters that have played almost all the games thusfar. Young and Lemanowicz are at forward, Wegrzynski at center and Bolster and Cieplicki at guard.

Intramurals

The Ryan II Cats picked up their fifth win of the season against a single loss, by defeating the Downtown Five 44-35. Lou Ganem accounted for the win via his eight markers in the last quarter to break up what had been a close contest. The Cats were down two at the half but tied it up at the third buzzer. John Cauley had a dozen for the losers, while Ganem netted 17 for Ryan.

The first place Hoboes continued in their winning ways by trouncing the Winooski Off Campus quintet 60-25. DesRoches tallied 22 for the Hoboes and Leonard 10 for the Winooski team.

Hank Berry and Dick Kliff exploded on the St. James Slap Happy Five for 28 and 26 points respectively, to give the Met. Warriors the biggest victory of the season 69-15. It was no contest right from the start and by the half, the Warriors were on top 37-12. The St. James crew amassed all of 3 points in the second half. Joe Martin was the big scorer for the losers with four.

St. Patrick's achieved a 500 record by downing Old Hall IV 51-28. Lynch was high for St. Pat's with 16, while Ripchik had 20 of the Old Hall tallies.

St. Leo's and Old Hall III also moved up in the leagues standings by picking up victories last week. St. Leo's edged the Faculty 27-23, while Old Hall won a close battle over the Essex Junction team 48-44.

In the scoring column, Jim Schaefer of the Fire House Five continued to lead the league with 84 points, at an average of 13 a contest. Kliff of the Met Warriors and Ray Garland of the Bobcats followed with 79 and 78 in their six contests.

PAIR LAND WJOY JOBS

Charlie Eldridge and Dave Essenfeld are the two Michaelmen that came out on top in the radio auditions recently held at Station WJOY.

Following the final auditioning on February 4th, the men in charge at WJOY deliberated and chose the two. The choice was made on a basis of voice,, personality and all-around presentation.

Eldridge is a Freshman from Newport, Rhoke Island, and has lately been making news around campus by spear-heading interest in a campus radio station, WSSE, which, in the near future, will be a reality on the Hilltop. His previous experience has been his serving in the capacity of station,Manager at WHOE, the Rhode Island U. Station, and professional work as an announcer on one of the commercial stations in Newport.

Dave Essenfeld has also distinguished himself around campus. This Junior from Far Rockaway, N.Y., has served this year as editor of the " Lance," College literary magazine, and has consistently been a " Dean's Lister."

At the present time, these two St. Michael's students, along with one from U.V.M., the three lucky gents out of the small group of finalists, are undergoing an " orientation " period at WJOY. They are being taught certain fine points of radio work, and picking up some added experience, all of which will help them in their respective capacities at WJOY during the remainder of this year.

Fairfield Edges SMC Young Tosses in 34

When Bernie Cieplicki's last shot snapped in and out of the basket, Fairfield University of Connecticut eked out a 79-78 win over St. Michael's at Memorial Auditorium this week. It was the eighth loss for the Jacobsmen who have won nine.

The accurate one-handers of the Stags' John O'Connell gave them a slight advantage in the opening minutes of play. However, before the stanza ended Bob Young had picked up 10 of his 34 points and St. Michael's had a 23-20 lead.

Bob Gerwien and Bob Marcovic of Fairfield stemmed the tide somewhat in the second quarter and eventually put the Stags back on top. Again Young did most of the scoring for the Knights, tossing in 10 of the 16 points SMC got. O'Connell hit two more times from the outside and Fairfield held a 45-39 halftime lead.

MARGIN EXPANDS

The offense of both clubs went into a decided slump in the third period each scoring but five field goals. Gerwien hit with two quick shots and O'Connell added a couple more, widening the breach to 12 points. Jacobs replaced Tom Lemanowicz with John Coffey and he stole the ball twice, making good on both attempts. Young added a foul shot, just before the buzzer and the quarter closed with the Stags still on top 59-54.

Young twisted the strings with his 30th marker seconds after the final stanza opened. For several minutes Gerwien and Bolster matched baskets, but the Stags remained in the lead. Coffey hit from the free throw strip cutting the lead to one point, 70-69. Markovic did likewise but Young hooked in one to tie the game up. It continued 71-71, 73-73, 75-75, and 76-76.. Coffey put SMC in the lead 78-76 with about a minute remaining but three foul shots by Markovic ended the Knights' domain. With 8 seconds left, Gerwien stepped up to the line for two more free throws. He missed both and St. Michael's got the rebound and immediately called time out.

With five seconds left, Bolster took the ball out and passed to Cieplicki at half-court. The freshman guard, who won the St. Lawrence game on similar circumstances, dribbled in near the circle and let it go. It was in and then out, and the game was over.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

Where's your jingle?
It's easier than you think to make $25 by writing a Lucky Strike jingle like those you see in this ad. Yes, we need jingles—and we pay $25 for every one we use! So send as many as you like to: Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y.

If you have argued with your gal,
There's one sure way to soothe her.
Just offer her a Lucky Strike—
They're cleaner, fresher, smoother.

Rita M. Jabo

My prof sure put me on the spot
With "What's the sine of three?"
But ask me what's the sign of taste—
It's Luckies you'll agree.
